

SELL BACK YOUR BOOKS AND RETURN RENTALS ONLINE

It's simple!

1. Visit <http://www.bkstr.com/savannahlawstore/home> and click on the "Sell Now" icon located on your Buyback Banner.
 2. To sell back your books online, follow on-screen instructions to confirm the book's value. If you decide to sell, mail your book back at no charge and we'll send you a check. Note that value is based on demand. A book is worth the most when known to be used again the following year.
 3. To return rentals online, follow the on screen instructions to check in your rentals. Print the confirmation and shipping label and send back your rental books.

Common Questions

Q: Why should I sell my books to Follett?

A: Follett is your school's official bookstore. When you sell back to us, the book will be available to next year's students. Each time a book is sold through Follett, it supports Savannah Law School and its students while books sold elsewhere do not.

Q: What determines the book's buyback value?

A: Demand and condition. We want you to be happy with a used book you buy from us, so the condition of a book matters at buyback.

Q: How does online buyback work?

A: Go to the virtual campus website to find the value of your book. If you decide to sell, print the pre-paid mailing label and send it to Follett. You will receive a check in the mail within a few weeks after we receive the books and verify condition.
